Kirsten Madsen & Patricia Spadafora

- Dr. Kirsten Madsen is a faculty member at Sheridan College. She received her PhD in Developmental Psychology from the University of Sheffield in England. Specifically, her graduate work was with the Sheffield University anti-bullying project. Since then she went on to assess what anti-bullying strategies were being implemented by schools across England. Dr. Madsen conducts research and has done extensive training with frontline staff in the area of bullying, aggression, age differences, gender differences, and program development. Currently she is the Project Director for the “Seniors bullying Seniors: What is happening in Ontario”, a project being conducted in partnership between Sheridan College and Elder Abuse Ontario that is funded by the Social Sciences and Humanities Council of Canada (SSHRC).
- Pat Spadafora, of Kaleidoscope Consulting, is the founder and former Director of the Centre for Elder Research, an applied research Centre of Excellence at Sheridan College in Ontario, Canada. The Centre, founded by Ms. Spadafora in 2003, enables researchers to go from “lab to life”[®] with its consumer driven focus and its emphasis on knowledge translation. With many years of experience in post-secondary education, social work and applied research, Ms. Spadafora has a proven track record of bringing innovative projects to fruition. Under Spadafora’s leadership, the Centre amassed an impressive body of work and developed a reputation for innovative research and community engagement. Ms. Spadafora’s expertise and interests include, but are not limited to, promoting positive images of aging, the human cost of social isolation and loneliness, the lived experiences of older immigrants, the needs and interests of older entrepreneurs, elder abuse and the health and well-being benefits of engagement in the creative and performing arts.

Sheridan | Centre for Elder Research

The Centre for Elder Research conducts innovative Lab to Life[®] research that enhances the quality of life of older adults while serving as an education and resource hub for Sheridan and the broader community.

Background – population aging Demographic shift in Canada

- As of 2015, there were more adults over 65 than children under the age of 14
- The 2011 census reported more people 100+ than ever before
- The number of people 65+ could double in the next 25 years

8,230
Canadians over the age of 100

5x more women

Why is it important to investigate the prevalence of senior bullying?

We live in an era of longevity – a rapidly aging population compels us to be proactive in recognizing and responsive to factors that impact quality of life.

Additional background

- Senior to senior bullying is a very real concern but most bullying research has focused on children and youth
- Need to create strategies to identify and support at risk older adults
- The genesis of the current research was the Ottawa survey that explored the prevalence and nature of bullying between adults 55+ living in senior's apartments and participating in activities targeting older adults.
- SSHRC funding opportunity
- Importance of the partnership between Sheridan College Elder Abuse Ontario (EAO) and EAO networks throughout Ontario

What is senior bullying?

“Bullying is sometimes called harassment and happens when someone hurts, intimidates or scares a peer consciously or unconsciously. When someone is being bullied they often have a hard time defending themselves. Bullying is usually not a one-time event. It can happen over and over again.”

This survey relates to bullying which is based on peer to peer interactions, and not perpetrated by a person who is in a position of trust.

PROJECT AIMS:

- Collect data on the prevalence and nature of Senior to Senior bullying in Ontario;
- Use this data to create a resource package outlining best practices for seniors and those working with seniors to stop bullying.

Survey

- Older Adults (55+)
- Ottawa, Peterborough Region, Toronto, Halton, and Peel
- Recruitment: Internet & Senior Centres across Ontario, so this will include those living in the community as well as residing in seniors' residences.
- Geographic regions (rural, urban)
- Languages: Both official English and French languages. Plus, the top 5 languages in Ontario, as identified by the Ontario Government: Punjabi, Simplified Chinese, Portuguese, Italian and Spanish.
- All surveys are available through the Senior Bullying Project Webpages:
- <https://www.sheridancollege.ca/research/active-research/serc/bullying-between-older-adults>
- Survey will be available in print and on-line (Print version surveys in all identified languages are available by emailing the Project Team at: senior.bullyingproject@sheridancollege.ca.
- English survey: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/SeniorBullyingProject>

Survey Questions:

- How prevalent is bullying behaviour among older adults in Ontario (aged 55+)
- What types of behaviours are occurring
- Typical profile of someone who is bullied
- Typical profile of someone who has engaged in bullying behaviours
- Perceived reasons for bullying
- Perceived consequences of bullying

APPLICATION OF DATA:

- Information sharing on the website
- Autumn 2018 2nd webinar to present updates

- Phase 2:
- 4 workshops: Halton and Peel Region, OAE South Central (GTA), South East (Peterborough), and East (Ottawa).
- With stakeholders across Ontario to obtain feedback on the data.
- Use data and feedback to develop a resource package of best practices for older adults, frontline staff and agencies to use in order to prevent and respond to bullying.
